

Disclaimer (Chocolate Making)

Each attendee takes full personal responsibility for any misuse of ingredients and any accident/injury that may be sustained whilst attending the workshop/party, waiving any liability whatsoever from Pretty Pollies.

Please be aware that the finished products produced during the workshop/party have not been safety tested, however the individual ingredients used within them are from UK approved suppliers and have undergone vigorous checks, including safety testing.

Due to the nature of the workshop/party and the idea that it is a chance for the attendees to 'experiment' with different ingredients to produce their own chocolates, Pretty Pollies would like to recommend that these finished products are used within 2 weeks.
